

Oldbury Park Primary School supports the British values of Democracy, The Rule of Law, Individual Liberty, and Mutual Respect and Tolerance for those with different faiths and beliefs. We believe that this approach fully complements our values and ethos.

Our daily assemblies play a crucial role in embedding these values within the school ethos. We take part in specific activities to promote these values. The School and Eco Councils are elected by the children and play an active role in the decision making in the school. Our children are empowered to choose which charities they raise money for.

We actively monitor children's attitudes and behaviours and have robust procedures for identifying issues and taking action. All staff are trained to identify potential problems, such as radicalisation, and understand reporting procedures where pupils or staff fall short of our expected standards.

The staff work closely with parents, carers and other professionals to make sure that our children are happy, well cared for and enabled to learn the skills they need to live a fulfilling life as part of our community.
