

YEAR 6

Hello, Year 6!

This is it, your last week as Year 6s at Oldbury Park Primary RSA Academy!

You have all worked exceptionally hard all year and we are very proud of the people you have become. We would have loved to celebrate the end of your time at Oldbury Park in the normal way but things have been a little different this year. Well done to those of you who took learning at home within your stride and who have been working hard since we left school in March. We would like to take this opportunity to say thank you to all of you for making our year memorable. It has been wonderful to see how you have grown and matured since September and it is clear to see that you are all ready for high school. We would also like to thank mums and dads who have supported you at home to carry on your learning.

You will be missed at Oldbury Park but we know you will all go on to achieve great things!

EVERY DAY

Daily Maths lessons - <https://whiterosemaths.com/homelearning/year-6/> (Summer term Week 12 w/c 13th July). This week, you will be learning about Nets, Pie Charts, The Mean and Circles! Watch the video and then complete the written task (some of these need printing). This is 30-40 minutes work. There is no video for Friday but there will be a Maths Challenge which will be on the website later in the week.

Mathletics – 15-20 minutes (more if you wish).

Daily Arithmetic – one box per day.

Read for at least 30 minutes.

CGP BOOKS (across the whole week)

Maths – You should now have finished your maths book. Go back to check that you have and make sure you've checked your answers!

English – Pages 70-75 (Practice Test). Please also check that you have finished this book too!

SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST!

Additional tasks for this week (13/7/20)

The Man Who Bought a Mountain

"Everyone: stick together, look out for each other and stay on the trail, please. The path is really rocky and steep. It's mostly uphill from here – but I suppose you'd all guessed that! As the elders say, the longest journey begins with a single step."

Yash finished his speech and smiled at the weather-beaten faces looking back at him. He had spoken loudly and clearly to the group of nine men and women, most of whom shuffled from foot to foot, adjusting huge rucksacks as they listened.

"Jeez! How old is this kid, eleven?" muttered one man towards the back.

"Actually, I'm twelve." Yash gritted his teeth.

Twelve years living at the base of this mountain, he thought to himself, compared with the twelve hours since you got off the plane.

A wise voice then echoed in his head.

Always be welcoming to friends but be even more welcoming to visitors.

He forced another smile and then fastened his rarely brushed brown hair into a messy knot with a plain elasticated band which he took from his wrist.

"Right, follow me. It's a few hours to the base camp. The Jagurdwa mountain is home to thousands of different species of animals and plants..."

Yash began his ritual of information and storytelling as he led the trek. He weaved his familiar route through the fields of amaranth crops, up a steep slope and past the Spring of Hope, where clear, cool ground water pooled gently before tumbling down the mountain rocks.

The area around the Spring of Hope always reminded him how much new life came from even the tiniest nooks and crannies on the vast Jagurdwa mountain. Cracks and crevices along the side of the steep path were home to beetles and spiders and, behind the cascading waterfall, a damp, shallow cave served as a perfect hiding place for other small creatures who preferred the darkness. The river that cascaded from here with its streams and pools provided homes for fish and other creatures, and food for people.

The Man Who Bought a Mountain

Some visitors squealed or jumped in fright at the sight of the many animal species living on its slopes, but Yash loved to see them and took pleasure in trying to identify one set of distinguishing features from another. He knew that some animals lived only in this mountain region and nowhere else.

The group wound their way along the rocky track which led to the path of yaks. Yash's scratched and faded boots glided deftly over each section of the rough ground. He gripped a finely crafted stick with his right hand, made by his grandfather. The tip of it reached shoulder height and he planted it into the ground with every alternate footstep. Yash knew this – and every – path up the mountain like the back of his hand, and he adored every inch of the familiar landscape.

Behind him trudged the group, each kitted out with walking boots and hats and weighed down with their heavy bags. Sometimes, the groups were chatty and asked lots of questions; sometimes, they marched silently as though they had been sent as a punishment. Thankfully, this lot seemed like a fairly interesting bunch.

Several hours and two short stops later, he had delivered most of his repertoire.

“Some people believe that the mountains were created by the gods. They point to the skies, see?” Yash extended an arm up towards the nearby peaks that were visible around them as they climbed. “Lots of our people believe that they are sacred and a way for us to get closer to the gods.”

With that, he showed a final flourish of energy, dashing to greet his uncle, Ranj, as they arrived at their destination. At eye level, the sight was little more than a colourful array of dome-shaped tents pitched on some flat, rocky ground. It looked like alien pods had landed on a moonscape. Above was the most breathtaking view – the one which always drew gasps from the visitors when they first rounded the corner approaching base camp. All around, jagged mountain peaks pointed skyward, stretching their cold fingers towards the clouds. Straight ahead, the highest tip of the Jagurdwa rose above them all.

“They’re all yours,” Yash said to his uncle.

“A good group?” he asked, out of earshot.

“Pretty good, Uncle,” Yash replied. “Not too fit – but we’ve seen worse!”

Answers

1. Look at the first paragraph.

Why do you think that Yash tells the group that the path is rocky and steep?

Accept a reference to Yash preparing the group in his role as a guide or sharing his knowledge about the route ahead.

- Yash was helping the group by telling them what the path ahead is like.
- He is an expert so he was letting the group know what to expect.

2. Actually, I'm twelve." Yash gritted his teeth.

What does this extract tell us about how Yash is feeling?

Accept feelings of frustration, annoyance, and accept a reference to him deliberately trying not to show his feelings to the group.

3. Always be welcoming to friends but be even more welcoming to visitors.

Why is this line written in italics?

Accept reference to the idea that the words are inside his own head or that they are a memory of something said by somebody else.

4. The text says that Yash '...fastened his rarely brushed brown hair into a messy knot with a plain elasticated band which he took from his wrist.'

Give two impressions of Yash's character or background that are suggested by this sentence.

Any reasonable inferences, including:

- Yash does not care much about his appearance because his hair is rarely brushed/ is in a messy knot;
  - Yash may not have lots of money or material possessions as he uses a plain elasticated band;
  - Yash is organised because he kept an elasticated band on his wrist.
5. Look at the paragraph beginning 'The area around the Spring of Hope...'

Give two examples of habitats for living creatures mentioned in this section.

Accept reasonable suggestions of habitats from the stated paragraph, such as: 'Cracks and crevices along the side of the steep path were home to beetles and spiders'; 'a damp, shallow cave served as a perfect hiding place for other small creatures who preferred the darkness'; 'streams and pools provided homes for fish and other creatures'.

6. Look at the paragraph beginning 'The group wound their way along...'.
How does this section give the impression that Yash is an expert in guiding the trek? Give evidence to support your answer.

Answers should include at least two different points with evidence from the text for at least one of the points. For example:

- Yash's boots were scratched and faded, which suggests they were well worn or used often.
- His boots 'glided deftly' over each section of the rough ground, which suggests that he can move quickly and confidently and knows the area well

7. Explain what is meant by the phrase 'out of earshot'.
without the group being able to hear what was said

8. What do you think Yash's feelings are about the mountain? Use the text to support your answer.

Accept any positive feeling supported by evidence from the text. For example, Yash 'adores' the landscape which shows that he has a deep respect and love for the environment.

9. Which of these statements are Fact and which are Opinion? Tick one for each row.

	Fact	Opinion
The animals on the mountain were fascinating.		✓
The ground at base camp was rocky and flat.	✓
There were many tents of different colours.	✓
The view above them was breathtaking.		✓

10. Which of these words do you think best describes Yash as a guide? Circle one.

immature

confident

knowledgeable

uncaring

Explain your answer using evidence from the text.

Accept any opinion that is supported by evidence from the text. For example:

[knowledgeable] I think that Yash is a knowledgeable guide because he is able to find his way up the mountain quickly and knows every route 'like the back of his hand'. He is also able to tell the group stories while he leads the way.

While you are working from home, try and complete AS MANY of these as possible. As you complete the activities, write the date or colour in the box to help you keep track. You can paste any photos/links to your work into a PowerPoint document.

If you or your parents use social media, please share photos of you doing any of the challenges and tag #BeAwesomeGoBig
GOOD LUCK!

Write a letter to your future self. You could put it somewhere safe to open in a year's time. What is happening right now? How do you feel about it all? What are your biggest hopes and fears about moving school?	Write a letter to a teacher who has had a positive impact on your life so far. What do you want to thank them for? How have they impacted on your life?	Write your own autobiography. You might include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>When and where you were born</li> <li>Important events in your life and how they made you into the person you are now</li> <li>Things you would have done differently, if you had the chance</li> <li>What your hopes are for the future.</li> </ul>	Write down three ways you can be kind to someone this week.	'I am' poem: you will be meeting a lot of new people and friends when starting secondary school. Write an 'I am' poem to introduce yourself. It should be a minimum of 5 lines and a maximum of 10, e.g. I am excited to see my friends          I am nervous about the different lessons          I am worried about finding my way around          I am looking forward to new subjects          I am going to take part in sport
Take your first name, or that of a family member/friend and write it vertically on different lines. Complete each line with something positive which starts with the letter given (for example strengths and skills they/you have). This could be one word or ten!	Write a Haiku – a 3-line poem (1st line 5 syllables, 2nd line 7 syllables, 3rd line 5 syllables) on what it means to be kind in school.	Create your own musical instrument using household objects. You could use items from your recycling, dried beans, elastic bands etc. Experiment with different ways you could use the items to create sounds.	Have a conversation with the oldest person you know about their life. This could be a grandparent, friend, aunt or uncle. Before you do, think about the questions you would like to ask, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Tell me about the food you ate. What were your meals like? What were your favourite sweets?</li> <li>What games did you play?</li> <li>What was it like being at school? Who was your favourite teacher? Was it strict? Did you have a favourite lesson? Was there a lesson you hated?</li> <li>What was your favourite book or comic when you were my age?</li> </ul>	Make your interview into a radio or television programme. Or, if you prefer, turn it into a magazine article with photos. Send it to the person you interviewed as a memento.
Write down three things you would do if a friend of yours was anxious about starting a new school.	Come up with three questions about the world around you that you would like to ask your new science teacher. For example, why does my cat have stripes?	Watch your favourite film or read your favourite book again. Write a letter to a friend explaining why you think that they should read it.	You will be studying maths at secondary school. Can you identify five times you have used maths in your daily life?	Make your own map of the neighbourhood. Identify key buildings, parks, statues, schools and anything else you can think of that you notice. Perhaps use contour lines to show the height of different areas.
You'll study science at secondary school and you will need to understand about managing risk. Make a list of hazards involved when cooking dinner.	Create a powerful speech on something you feel passionate about. It might be a local issue, something global or a topic relevant to only you.	Find a recipe and work out the ingredients needed for 30 people.	Write a letter to the reception children starting at your old primary school. Tell them the best things about the school and what they have to look forward to during their time there.	Learn to tie three different types of knots.
Design a flying car of the future, imagining you are living in the year 2300.	Design a new logo for your secondary school.	Turn a favourite song or story into a picture that summarises it.	Write a newspaper article persuading people why it is important to study maths.	Write down three things you would do if you saw someone being unkind.
